1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1-4 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) or 102(e) as being anticipated by Chitre et al ('339) or Chitre et al ('330).

Both of the applied references are from the same patent family, Chitre et al ('330) being the patent issued from the U.S. Stage of examination of the PCT application published as Chitre et al ('339). Chitre et al ('330) is applied to the instant claims under 35 USC 102(e), and Chitre et al ('339) is applied to the instant claims under 35 USC 102(b).

With respect to independent claim 1, please note in the Abstract of Chitre et al ('339) the "interleaving to reduce burst errors as claimed. Chitre et al ('330) discloses the same feature as Chitre et al ('339).

With respect to the further limitations of dependent claim 2, these limitations are inherently met by either of the applied references in that the payload and the header are not disclosed as being processed simultaneously.

With respect to the further limitations of dependent claims 3 and 4, please note the discussion of Reed Solomon coding in the second full paragraph on page 18 of Chitre et al ('339). Chitre et al ('330) discloses the same feature as Chitre et al ('339).

With respect to the further limitations of dependent claim 7, the apparatus disclosed in either of the applied references would act to enhance resistance to burst errors and jamming. Please note, for example, the Abstract of Chitre et al ('339).

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-4 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

On line 4 of independent claim 1, the uses of "empty/idle" and "eliminated/used" are indefinite and unclear in context.

On lines 4-5 of claim 1, it is unclear in context if the "wherein ..." phrase merely recites the inherent results arising from the method step recited on lines 3-4 (i.e., "interleaving the ATM cell header into an error correction transmission frame”), or if the “wherein ...” phrase is intended to recited an additional method step.

Dependent apparatus claim 7 is indefinite and unclear in context in that it is unclear how an apparatus claim can further limit a method claim and in that the apparatus claim fails to recite even one item of structure. Please see MPEP 2164.08(a).

Dependent claims 2-4 and 7 are unclear in that they depend from unclear independent claim 1.

5. The Specification is objected to under 37 CFR 1.71 in that it fails to provide a disclosure that would enable one of ordinary skill-in-the-art to make and/or to use the claimed apparatus.

Claim 7 is presented as an apparatus claim, but it fails to recite even a single structural element to define the claimed apparatus. Thus, apparatus claim 7 attempts to claim all possible structures that could be conceived to implement the method of claim 1, which are not disclosed. This is analogous to a single-means claim situation as set forth in MPEP 2164.08(a).

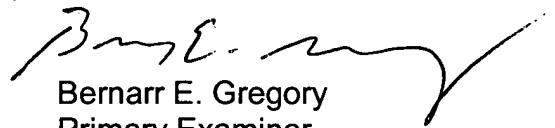

6. Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. Please see the remarks in the objection to the specification in section 5 above.
